

SEVERE ENGAGEMENT

Spanish Troops and the Insurgents Meet.

OVER THREE HUNDRED KILLED.

Nearly All of Them Were Insurgents, According to Reports From Havana.—The Battle Took Place in a Mountain Pass. Private Citizens Report Some of Campos' Blunders—Latest War News.

HAVANA, July 9.—A severe engagement has taken place between the Spanish troops under the command of Colonel Aznar and General Rabi, the insurgent commander, at the head of a large force. Two hundred and eighty of the latter were killed.

It appears that Major Sanchez received information to the effect that a force of 1,500 insurgents, under the command of Rabi, had occupied strong positions near Manzanillo, province of Santiago de Cuba. Consequently the major sent a messenger to his superior officer, Colonel Aznar, proposing to the colonel that they should join their forces and make an attack upon the insurgents.

The messenger, however, fell into the hands of the insurgents, who hanged him and sent word to Major Sanchez, in the name of Colonel Aznar, to make an attack upon the insurgent position from a point which compelled the troops to approach the insurgents through a narrow thoroughfare. Major Sanchez, recognizing the difficulty of the movement he was apparently directed by his colonel to execute, sent forward two advance pickets of 12 and 30 men respectively, under the command of two sergeants, with instructions to push forward to the right and to the left of the narrow thoroughfare referred to and to be careful to take up advantageous positions from which they could protect the advance of the main body of the troops under Sanchez's command.

The sergeants cleverly followed out the instructions given them. Major Sanchez then advanced carefully upon the insurgent position, protecting his men by every inequality of the ground. But, as he expected, the troops were no sooner inside the defile than the insurgents attacked them in force. The first charges of the insurgents were made with enthusiasm and their machetes played havoc among the troops who were hemmed in and unable to deploy on account of the narrow road they had to follow. But it was here that the two advance pickets under the two sergeants came to the rescue. From their elevated position they kept up a continuous and well directed fire upon the insurgents within range, and eventually, assisted by a charge of the Spanish troops, compelled them to retreat outside of the defile.

The Spanish troops rushed forward after them, and once in the open they charged the insurgents with great courage and compelled them to retreat hastily. The insurgents then sought refuge in the strong position they had previously left in order to attack the troops; but the soldiers carried this position and put the enemy to flight, with the loss upon the field of 280 killed. The troops lost 50 men in killed and wounded.

It was at first reported that the insurgents were commanded by General Maceo, but it was subsequently learned that they were under command of Rabi alone, and that Maceo took no part in the engagement.

In another fight reported from Yaguajay, the insurgents under Rabi lost five killed and many wounded, while on the side of the troops, one officer and four soldiers were wounded.

News of another defeat of the insurgents has reached here from Bellamos in the province of Santa Clara. Bellamos was garrisoned by an officer and 50 soldiers who occupied a fortified barracks building. The place was attacked by the insurgents under Castillo. The enemy built a large fire to the windward and the flames communicated to that building. The insurgent leader then sent word to the officer in command of the garrison, the soldiers forming part of the union battalion, notifying him to surrender under pain of being burned alive with his men. The officer sent word to Castillo in reply that he preferred to die fighting or be burned to death rather than surrender to the insurgents.

In the meantime some of the soldiers succeeded in extinguishing the flames, which threatened to consume the barracks, and while they were doing so the remainder of the garrison kept up a continuous fire from their rifles on the insurgents. The latter replied from every point, but the garrison held out gallantly for two hours. The news of the insurgents' attack had in the meanwhile been communicated to a detachment of Spanish soldiers in the neighborhood, and they pushed forward with all possible speed to the relief of the garrison of Bellamos. The moment they reached that place a brisk fire was opened upon the insurgents, and the latter immediately retired, leaving many dead and wounded on the field. On the side of the troops only three men were killed and four wounded.

The insurgents have burned a church near Banao in the Santi Espiritus district of the province of Santa Clara.

CAMPOS' BLUNDERS.

Election Laws Violated in Choosing a Mayor For Havana.

TAMPA, Fla., July 8.—The following are the latest advices received by prominent Cubans here:

Martinez Campos came from Spain to inaugurate reform which he admitted Cuba needed. When he discovered that the reformist party would advance no money he cabled the Spanish officials to place no restraint on his actions. The result is the violation of the election laws of Havana by the choosing of Don Antonio Quesada by Campos as mayor of Havana.

Ramon Herrera, chief of the reform party, and Campos have quarreled. The former will shortly leave for Spain. He told Campos that he would not sanction by his presence the blunders Campos was committing.

In Vega Alta 172 men, under the command of an American engineer named Smith, have joined the insurgents. An American flag, with a large white star covering the others, was carried.

More than 30 Spanish merchants have liquidated. Gomez has burned the towns of Vuergentes, Guajaja and Magarababa, in Puerto Principe.

Americans Being Tried in Cuba.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The last advices received by the state department from Cuba relative to Sanguilly and Aguerre, the naturalized American citizens who have been under arrest there for several months on charges of complicity in the rebellion, are to the effect that they are now under trial, which may be long drawn out, owing to the fact that in at least one case the proceedings are civil as well as criminal and political. However, as fair progress is being made according to the Spanish practices, and as the men have the best of counsel and their cases are being closely watched by the American consul general, the state department is not disposed to make this a matter of complaint.

SUBURB SHAKEN.

Hundreds of Barrels of Oil Explode at a Fire at Harlem Near Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The suburb of Harlem was shaken from limit to limit last night by the explosion of hundreds of barrels of oil stored in the Standard Oil company's big warehouse in that village. Flames were discovered at 11 o'clock in the basement of the building, and before the one engine of the fire department could get into action the fire had obtained such headway that it would have been folly to attempt to save the building.

In less than 10 minutes the first explosion took place, and then came a fusillade, as if heavy artillery was in action. The building was blown to pieces and burning oil thrown all over the surrounding land. Several hundred feet away was a tank in which were stored thousands of gallons of oil, and the department reinforced from the city, turned its attention to saving it, and after several hours hard work succeeded. The loss will be over $50,000.

EXTENT OF THE STORM.

Probably Fifty Lives Lost Throughout the West.

CHICAGO, July 9.—It is now believed that the total loss of life by storms in the west will reach fully 50. The loss in property can be placed in the millions. Dwellings, fences and farm buildings were carried off and highway and railroad bridges swept away.

Thirty of the 80 buildings in Winona succumbed.

Five residences, a church and a warehouse went down at Baxter Springs.

Six bridges went out in Russell county, Kan.

About Jefferson City, Mo., many square miles of growing grain were destroyed.

Traffic on the Fort Scott and Memphis railway is temporarily suspended.

Reports of damage to property other than above noted come from five points in Kansas, nine in Missouri, six in Arkansas and two in the Indian Territory. The storm spent itself in Illinois.

DEAD BODY IN A POOL.

A Seventeen-Year-Old Girl Murdered Near Marshall, Indiana.

MARSHALL, July 9.—The 17-year-old daughter of Daniel Shanks, a farmer living seven miles north of this place, was murdered last Saturday night. She failed to return home that night and Sunday morning her brother went in search of her and found her dead body in a pool of water in the woods, not far from the house.

Suspicion rests upon a neighbor, a married man, and yesterday the brother of the dead girl went to his house and called him out, shot at him, missing him, however. The excitement is intense in that neighborhood. Evidence of a struggle were found in the woods, as well as traces of blood, and the tracks led to the pool of water. The girl's face was badly beaten up.

Mother and Baby Both Doing Well.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., July 9.—In company with Joseph Jefferson and Charles B. Jefferson, Mr. Cleveland spent nearly all day trout fishing at East Sandwich, where Mr. Jefferson has a private stream. The party left early in the day and did not return until nearly 6 o'clock. Telegrams of congratulation continued to arrive all day and the president, after his return from fishing, devoted the evening to a perusal of them. To an inquiry as to the condition of Mrs. Cleveland and the baby Dr. Bryant reiterated his former words: "Mother and baby are both doing well."

Militia Protecting a Prisoner.

RICHMOND, July 9.—Governor O'Ferrall yesterday was called upon by the civil authorities of Clarke county to furnish military protection to Henry Robinson, a negro, on trial there for committing an outrage on a white lady. The governor ordered the Monticello Guard of Charlottesville to the scene and the troops left in the afternoon.

DESPERADO KILLED.

Shot Down by a Chicago Police Officer.

THREE MEN BADLY WOUNDED.

A Running Fight Through the Streets, in Which a Number of People Participated. The Dead Man Thought to Be C. E. Cole of Kansas City—Daring Attempt to Rob a Saloon.

CHICAGO, July 9.—In western desperado style, a man, supposed to be C. F. Cole, assaulted and attempted to rob P. G. McGlerin, in his saloon at 64 Adams street, in the heart of the business district of Chicago yesterday evening. After wounding McGlerin the thief escaped and made the most remarkable race for liberty ever seen in the streets of Chicago. After firing into the mob that pursued him and seriously wounding three citizens, he was run down and killed by Officer Rosenthal opposite the entrance of the Auditorium on Congress street.

The wounded are:

P. C. McGlerin, a saloonkeeper, three wounds on the head; will recover.

H. M. Sternberg, shot in the abdomen, taken to St. Luke's hospital; will probably die.

Samuel Stone, shot in the right leg; will recover.

McGlerin was alone in his saloon when Cole entered and ordered a glass of beer. This was served to him and he then asked the saloonkeeper to get him some meat that he claimed to have left in the ice box of the saloon. McGlerin walked to the entrance of the ice box and Cole drawing a revolver ordered him to go inside and stay there. McGlerin turned and struck the robber in the face, nearly knocking him down. The two men then clinched and fought desperately. Cole managed to get one arm free, and with his revolver he pounded the saloonkeeper viciously, inflicting three severe wounds on the head.

The robber then broke loose from McGlerin and, running to the front entrance of the saloon, turned west on Adams street. Although bleeding profusely McGlerin followed him, and was only a few steps behind when the thief turned into O'Brien's saloon at 84 Adams street, and still holding the revolver in his hand, ran out of the rear door on Quincy street. He then turned east, and at State street boarded a southbound cable car.

McGlerin was still close upon him, however, and Cole, seeing that he could not shake off his pursuer, ran through the car, heading his flight south on State street. Several citizens had by this time joined in the chase, and after running one block to Jackson street Cole fired a shot into the crowd, which failed to hit anyone. The night and pursuit then turned toward Wabash avenue and south upon that street.

Officers Rosenthal and Daly, in citizens' clothing were walking on Van Buren street just as Cole, closely followed by the bleeding saloonkeeper and a crowd of citizens, ran across that street going south. They at once joined in the chase, and as Cole was badly wounded by this time, they rapidly came up with him. Half way between Van Buren street and Congress street, Rosenthal was close upon his man and ordered him to surrender. Cole replied with a shot, and the bullet tore into the stomach of Sternberg, who was among the leaders of the pursuit.

Just before reaching the corner of Congress street the officer fired at the fugitive, who returned the compliment. The bullet of the officer went wild, but that of Cole brought down Stone, another of his pursuers, with a ball through the leg. Rosenthal fired a second time, and this time Cole staggered. He continued to run, however, turned the corner and ran east on Congress street until he was directly in front of the entrance to the great Auditorium theater, where he fell. He died within two minutes without saying a word. The officer's bullet had passed through his left kidney and into the lung.

Nothing is known of the man in Chicago, the police never having seen him before. It is not known where he came from and there is nothing found on his person which would throw any light upon the question of his identity. The only manner in which his name could be determined was by the laundry mark upon his clothing which read: "C. E. Cole." He was of slender build, about 5 feet 8 inches tall and had a dark moustache.

Inside the collar of Cole's coat was a tailor's tag bearing the name of G. Burnheimer & Company, Kansas City. From this the police are inclined to believe that the man came from that city.

Fifty Houses Burned.

CORNWALL, Ont., July 9.—Fifty houses have been destroyed by fire at Lorneville, a suburb of this place, and 800 people rendered homeless. Great distress prevails. One child was burned to death, as far as known. Some boys playing in a shed set fire to it and thus started the blaze. A high wind was blowing and the flames communicated rapidly with the adjoining houses which were of wood and in three hours the whole district was a smoldering mass of ruins.

Honey Hunters Killed.

BALLINGTON, Tex., July 9.—Sunday a number of gentlemen went down the river to a high bluff of rocks for the purpose of blasting out some bees and obtaining the honey. After the blast a large mass of rock, weighing about 10 tons, crashed down upon a portion of the crowd, instantly killing Morston Cotton and Robert Dunlap.

SMUGGLING IN CHINAMEN.

Nearly Three Hundred Have Crossed From Canada the Last Four Months.

NEW YORK, July 9.—A special dispatch from Montreal to The Evening Post says: The customs officials in this city expect to make an important arrest in a few days in connection with the smuggling of Chinamen from Canada into the United States. During the last four months it is estimated by the authorities that fully 300 Chinamen have been smuggled across the lines at various places.

The smugglers have grown so bold and the operations so extensive that the authorities at Washington decided on immediate action and sent 12 of the shrewdest United States secret service men to work up the case. They have made this city their headquarters, and during their sojourn of 10 days have succeeded in locating not only the leader of the gang, but have also found out the secret means of transportation.

Last Wednesday it was learned that the captain of a lumber boat in this port had arranged with the smugglers to convey 14 Chinamen from Soul, Que., to Troy, N. Y., provided they were delivered to him near Soul islands. The captain succeeded in eluding the secret service officers and getting them off the track and sailed up the Richelieu river to Lake Champlain and thence to Troy, N. Y., where he landed the Chinamen at night. The name of this captain has been secured and the name of his barge, and if he crosses into American waters again he will be arrested.

Some time ago a barge of lumber was seized at Troy by United States officials who suspected that it carried contraband goods. When the lumber was partly discharged the officers were greatly surprised to find in the center of the load, neatly caged in, 18 Chinamen with their baggage. There are a large number of Chinamen in this city at present waiting to cross into the United States territory, and many of them are plying the smugglers as much as $200 to get them across.

OLD SOLDIERS' COLONY.

One Hundred and Twenty-Five Thousand Acres of Land in Georgia Secured.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 9.—P. H. Fitzgerald started for Georgia yesterday afternoon. He goes to close the purchase of land for the old soldiers' colony. He said he has $125,000 in bank with which to begin business. The colony has taken options on 125,000 acres of land in Irwin and Wilcox counties, Ga.

Some of these options expire this week. Such lands will be purchased outright. Mr. Fitzgerald says he thinks he will secure 30,000 now and that money from the subscribers to the colony scheme will come on until the entire $350,000 necessary to take up all the land is available. The colony is not yet incorporated. Fitzgerald says the titles will be lodged in ex-Governor Northern of Georgia until the colony incorporates and takes actual possession.

Rich Gold Strikes.

FLORENCE, Colo., July 9.—There is considerable excitement here over the discovery of a new gold field in the Green Horn range, nine miles south of this place, directly on the line of survey of the Florence Southern railway. One vein of ore which is free milling is 40 feet wide and has had a mill test running about $10 for the full width of the vein. Another tunnel in 30 feet struck a vein of quartz that seems to be high grade ore and prospectors claim an assay of $55 for the whole vein, some parts of it running as high as $500.

Not an Accident but Murder.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 9.—Will Walker, whose remains were found strewn along the railroad tracks for a distance of four miles Saturday, was not killed by the train as first supposed, but was murdered and the body put on the rails to hide the evidences of the crime. In Walker's hat were a number of verdicts and the coroner's jury rendered a verdict that he came to his death at the hands of persons unknown, his body afterward being placed on the track.

Wholesale Jail Delivery.

ASHEVILLE, N.C., July 9.—A wholesale delivery from the county jail occurred at Hendersonville last night. The prisoners picked the locks to the cages, cut a hole through the plastering of the ceiling, then passed out through a ventilator by tying their blankets together and letting themselves down. Bloodhounds were telegraphed for from this place. It is thought the prisoners will soon be captured. Six made their escape.

Big Money For Ball Players.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—President Von der Ahe refused the sum of $25,000 for three of the Brown's best players yesterday. Connie Mack was in consultation with the boss president for over an hour trying to persuade him to part with the services of Breitenstein, Peitz and Ely, but he left without even a promise that his offer would be considered.

Bar and Plate Scale Signed.

PITTSBURG, July 9.—At the conference between the iron manufacturers and the Amalgamated association yesterday, the bar and plate scale for the entire Pittsburgh district was signed without opposition. The scale is the same as that signed by the Mahoning and Shenango valley manufacturers.

PLUNGED INTO A RUN

An Electric Car Hurlled From a Bridge.

MOTORMAN INSTANTLY KILLED.

Thirteen Passengers Badly Injured, Three of Whom May Die—The Car Fell Thirty Feet and Was Smashed Into Fragments. Arrival of Rescuers Save the Injured From Being Drowned.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 9.—An electric streetcar, running between this city and Wellsville, got beyond the control of the motorman yesterday afternoon and plunged over a bridge into a run, falling 30 feet. The car was smashed, and it was miraculous that any of the passengers escaped alive. As it was, only James Hamilton, the motorman, was killed, and he met death at his post after doing all he could to stop the car.

The list of the killed and injured is as follows:

James Hamilton, motorman, crushed to death; leaves a family.

Mooley Coburn, a farmer, badly hurt in the back; will probably die.

Mrs. Maggie McDole of this place, badly injured about the head, shoulders and back; will probably die.

Mrs. F. A. Nessly of West Virginia, thigh crushed.

Frank Green, a boy, hurt about the head; may die.

Samuel Manor, cut and bruised.

Mrs. Samuel Manor, cut and bruised and injured internally.

Mrs. Frank Anderson, Rochester, Pa., badly bruised.

Charles Searles of this place, cut in the leg and back.

J. F. Manor of this place, cut in the face and head.

Charles Spence, Salineville, O., cut in the head.

Andrew Watson of this city, bruised about the face.

Miss Ella McDole of this city, slightly hurt.

Frank Anderson, Rochester, Pa., badly bruised.

The passengers were crushed and jammed in the wreck of the car, and had not rescuers quickly arrived on the scene, some of them would have been drowned, as the run was dammed and the water rose rapidly about the wreckage.

SITUATION GRAVE.

Trouble May Occur at Any Time in the Elkhorn Mining Region.

BLUEFIELDS, W. Va., July 9.—The situation is very grave in the Elkhorn mining region. Colonel White, Governor MacCorkle's private secretary, says the danger is imminent and that trouble may occur at any time.

A telegram from Governor MacCorkle to Colonel Tierney, says if any more parading with guns is done by the miners the troops will be sent immediately.

Threats of burning the tipples are made, and this with the derailment of cars has created serious alarm. The heavy guard of United States marshals, together with Governor MacCorkle's telegram, Colonel White thinks, has had a beneficial effect.

The company here is in readiness to move at once if needed.

Charges Against Major Simons.

RICHMOND, July 9.—In a letter published here yesterday afternoon the board of trade of Pocahontas, Va., charges Major W. E. Simons, who has command of the Virginia troops there, with being too autocratic, and intimates that the soldiers are being used in the interest of the coal operators.

The statement says that persons are made to work against their will, and that innocent citizens are arrested, placed in prison, kept there for days and never given a civil hearing. Major Simons is charged with making false statements in his letter with reference to affairs there.

NO CAUSE FOR THE ACCIDENT.

Official Report on the Recent Explosion on the Whalebark Steamer.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Supervising Inspector General Dumont has received from Chicago the report of the local inspector of steam vessels of the result of the investigation of the accident to the whaleback steamer Christopher Columbus about 7:30 p. m. on her trip from Milwaukee to Chicago, June 22. It says one of the castiron flange T connections on the main steam pipe burst, close to the flange, causing the strain to break one of the main stop valves on the after boiler in starboard battery. The report says:

"We inspected this steamer June 8, 1895, and gave her a very thorough and exhaustive test, and there was no defect of any kind. After examining all the evidence and testimony, which has been very thorough, we are unable to find any carelessness or lack of discipline on the part of the officers or crew, nor was there an excess of steam pressure carried at any time. Therefore, we are unable to state the cause of the accident except that it was one of those accidents for which no cause can be given."

Peculiar Cattle Disease.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 9.—Governor Brown received a telegram from I. M. Smith of Oldham county, stating that his cattle are dying of some peculiar malady which baffles the knowledge of cattlemen and physicians of that locality. The governor has ordered Dr. McCormack of the state board of health to investigate the case.

Fair, cooler weather.

THE free-silver conference in Michigan consisted of one delegate, and the Democratic silver convention in Colorado numbered thirty. It is no longer a 16 to 1 craze. It has dropped to 30 to 1.

ALABAMA Democrats, it is said, will follow Kentucky brethren, and declare against the free silver craze. Kentucky led in the fight for tariff reform and she also leads in the fight for sound money.

SINCE the latter part of March wages have been increased in over 400 factories and other establishments, over 300,000 employees being benefitted by the raise. We are coming 'round to Democratic times.

BOSS BRADLEY carries the Kentucky Republican vote in his pocket, and if he wants to turn it over to Mr. Foraker in the National convention in 1896 he will do so. All the little fellows dance to the crack of his whip.

THE Cincinnati Post states that a deal is on between Colonel W. O. Bradley and ex-Governor Foraker. The former wants financial assistance in his present fight for Governor, and proposes to turn Kentucky's delegation over to Foraker in the Republican National convention in 1896 provided the latter will render him the necessary assistance this year. Well, the Boss is running the Republican party in Kentucky, and no doubt feels that he can sell it whenever he pleases and to Mr. Foraker or any one else who will plank down the cash. Boss Bradley proposes to take care of himself in this fight.

TIMELY AND TO THE POINT.

"United we stand, divided we fall" is the motto of Kentucky. It should be also that of the Democratic party. The old fable of the bundle of sticks still teaches that in unity there is strength and in harmony there is victory. In a great nation like ours there will be differences of opinion as to ways and means, but as to the fundamental principles of the old Democratic party there should be no differences. We should take the motto, "In non-essentials liberty, in essentials loyalty, and in all things charity." You may be a silver or a gold bug; you have that right as it is a party issue; but you have no right to desert your party because your man may not get the nomination. Principle is or should be paramount to prejudice or petty passions. In the face of the possibility of defeat we can not afford to divide our ranks. If the Republican party can cast the golden apple of discord into our ranks they will be only too happy. Let us give to others the privileges we take ourselves, and believe that they are honest, and on the day when host shall be joined against host in the silent yet potent conflict of the ballot let those that fall from Democratic hands be unsullied by scratches and unstained by treachery.—Cynthia Democrat.

Timely and to the point, Brother Allen. The defeat last year resulted simply from the fact that the Democrats didn't "get together" and stand shoulder to shoulder on the day of the election. "United we stand, divided we fall."

WAS A BIG "FAKE."

That Alleged Religious Riot At Siberia, Ind., Only a Little Scrimmage.

HUNTINGBURG, IND., July 6.—The reported riot at Siberia, Perry County, on the 4th instant, turns out to have been merely a free-for-all fight, the result of jealousy between two young men, cousins, who were paying attention to the same young lady, and was not brought about by religious dissension as reported. Four young men were pretty badly used up and a great many who were engaged in the fight were considerably bruised. No deaths will occur from injuries received in the affray.

ALL our 10 cent lawns, dimities and ducks reduced to 7 1/2 cents.

A BOOM FOR CARLISLE.

The Baltimore Sun Nominates Kentucky's Distinguished Son For President.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The Baltimore Sun this morning comes out in a strong leader and nominates Secretary John G. Carlisle for President.

It says just at this time he is the most available of any of the candidates mentioned, that his position before the country to-day is what Cleveland's was in '92.

The Secretary of the Treasury won a victory for sound money in Kentucky, it says, that makes him the logical leader of the party for '96. As a running mate the Sun suggests Senator Gray, of Delaware.

The editorial has caused considerable favorable comment.

It is stated that there are only 50,000 bushels of old wheat in the hands of Kentucky farmers, about one-half of one per cent. of the 1894 crop.

Vawter and wife, of Springdale, and Miss Mattie Lytle, of Cincinnati, visited Mr. and Mrs. Captain Sweet at their hospitable home in Plumville Sunday, and partook of such a dinner as few if any save the hostess can prepare. The menu embraced every variety of fruit, meat and vegetables that a thrifty farmer can furnish, together with the rarest pastry and cream, served in profusion. Church Statistics.

The United States census shows that the Episcopal Churches are the richest per member; the Presbyterians next; the Congregationalists next and so on down to the Southern Baptists, who are the poorest and the most numerous. In membership the Catholics lead with 6,231,417 members; the Methodists, 3,450,330; Baptists, 3,429,077.

The total membership of all the churches is 20,612,800. It is said that in the Catholic enumeration all the members of each family is counted and if that were done in the Protestant families it would add fourteen millions to the membership, making the entire church membership in the United States about 35,000,000. The church property is valued at $679,630,139. There are 111,000 preachers.

THE SENATORS,

The Washington City League Team,
To Play Here Next Friday.

The Norwood Nine With Lever Play
This Afternoon and To-morrow.

The Senators, Washington City's league team of ball players, will be here next Friday afternoon for a game with the Maysvilles. The locals have defeated every team they have met this year and will try to keep up their good record. They downed the Reds, and will try to down the Senators.

The Norwoods from Norwood, that sprightly suburb of Cincinnati, are here with their crack twirler the ex-Maysvillian Sammy Lever, and will cross bats with the locals at the new park this afternoon and to-morrow afternoon.

Lever has a supply of cannon balls hid away, and will put 'em over red hot when he faces his former fellow-hustlers on the diamond. Nothing would tickle him more than to down the Maysvilles, and he will do his best to win the game he pitches.

On the other hand, the Maysvilles haven't forgotten how Lever unceremoniously deserted them a few weeks ago and hid himself to his Ohio home, and they will take great pleasure in knocking him out of the box, if possible. They will all have on their batting clothes when they face him, and the game promises to be one of the most interesting of the season.

The Reds play at Portsmouth next Friday.

Maysville has signed her former pitcher Wellner to help out in the box. He was expected here this morning. In addition to being a fine twirler, Wellner has developed into a hard hitter.

Cincinnati Enquirer: "The Maysvilles evidently do not care to take any chances of the Reds defeating them, as they remain silent to all requests asking for another date there." Don't be uneasy, Mr. Enquirer. They will be given another date.

Every time a league team is defeated by an amateur nine they put up a pitiful plea that the umpire did it. Well, the Reds can't put their Maysville defeat on Mathews. Several of them acknowledged on the grounds that Clarence gave them a square deal from start to finish.

Wellner pitched two games at Huntington Thursday, was in the box here on Saturday, and then went to his home at Hamilton, O., and pitched against the Manhattans, one of the strongest amateur teams of Cincinnati. Wellner had the Manhattans shut out up to the sixth inning when he was disabled by a hot ball, and had to retire from the box, the Cincinnati team then winning out. Still, the new base ball editor of the Ledger thinks Wellner can't pitch!

THE Rev. Dr. T. D. Witherspoon, of Louisville, and Evangelists Degendorf and Walton are holding gospel services in the Kentucky mountains. They are equipped with an organ and hymn books and a spring wagon, and are meeting with great success. He writes of one of his meetings as follows: "Every inch of space was made use of. I thought that I had seen houses packed before, but I had never seen anything like this, and nearly as many were outside as were in the house. When I saw these good women sitting on fence rails, (used for seats,) through a service over an hour long, listening with close attention to the last words, though the thermometer must have been far up in the nineties, I thought of the comfortable seats in our well-ventilated churches, so many of them forsaken by the regular occupants under the plea of discomfort of church worship in hot weather."

ACCORDING to a bulletin just issued by the Civil Service Commissioners Kentucky under the old spoils system was entitled to 235 appointments according to her population. The State only received sixty-eight appointments, leaving a deficit of 157. After the merit system was applied to the departments Kentucky's quota according to population was placed at 124, while 116 have received appointments through the medium of the civil service, leaving seven yet to be appointed. Thus it would seem that the people in the Bluegrass State in the matter of office have fared better under the merit system.

DOES THIS SETTLE IT?

The Story of the Search For the Source of the Mississippi During Two Centuries.

"I have stepped across the Mississippi river," said Dr. Cones. "It was easy, for the stream was only about 8 inches wide and 2 inches deep. I have seen the Father of Waters where he rises literally out of the ground and starts as an infant rivulet, destined to cut the United States in twain with the mighty volume of his adult flood."

"The story of the search for the source of the Mississippi reads like a romance. After the discovery of the upper river in 1873 by Joliet and Marquette, and the discovery of the falls of St. Anthony in 1880, by Hennepin, little more was known of the Father of Waters for nearly a century. In 1766 Captain Jonathan Carver ascended the stream as far as the mouth of Rum river. In 1798 the famous English astronomer and surveyor, David Thompson, in the service of the Northwest company, reached Turtle lake. This lake, which sends a tributary to the Mississippi, was for some time supposed to be the source."

"The first white man known to have visited the neighborhood of the actual source of the Mississippi was William Morrison, a fur trader, who was certainly at Lake Itasca in 1803 or 1804. He never published anything on the subject, and it is only very recently that his priority of discovery has been known. The next explorer of the sources of the river was Lieutenant Zebulon Montgomery Pike. He was the first American citizen to carry the flag of the United States into northern Minnesota. He was sent by the government to treat with the Indians and stop the sale of liquor in that region. Incidentally he purchased for $250 and some whisky a tract of land nine miles square, which included the present site of Minneapolis. Congress subsequently voted an additional payment to the Indians for this tract of $2,000."

"Lieutenant Pike proceeded by boat to the vicinity of the present Little Falls in Morrison county, Minn. He got no farther with boats, and so continued his journey through the winter of 1805-6 on snowshoes and with sledges northward. He finally reached Leech lake. This lake he mistook for the source of the Mississippi, and his report on this subject was held to be correct for some years afterward."

"In 1820 the Hon. Lewis Cass, accompanied by Henry R. Schoolcraft, the historian, went on an exploring expedition up the Mississippi as far as Cass lake, so named at the time by Schoolcraft. In 1823 an Italian traveler, J. C. Beltrami, went over David Thompson's route to Turtle lake and reported that lake to be the true source. Evidently, however, he heard from the Indians about Lake Itasca, for he mapped it with approximate accuracy, though he was never there and did not imagine that the Father of Waters sprang thence."

"Lake Itasca was rediscovered in 1832, when Schoolcraft, accompanied by Lieutenant Allen, United States army; the Rev. Mr. Boatwell and others, was guided to the lake by a Chippewa Indian, known as Yellow Head. On this occasion Lake Itasca received its present name, which was made up of parts of the words Veritas Caput, signifying the 'true head' of the river. The Latin was bad, for it ought to have been Verum Caput. The lake had previously been known by the French name of Lac la Biche, meaning Elk Lake. This was a translation of the Chippewa Omoshkos Sogigagon."

"Schoolcraft's party made an examination of Lake Itasca, being satisfied that they had found the true source of the Mississippi. Not again until 1836 did any scientific man visit the spot. This was a Frenchman, J. N. Nicollet, who tried to ascertain the source of the feeders of Lake Itasca. Exploring southward, he reached the springs from which the infant river takes its rise. It should be understood that the Mississippi runs from its source directly northward for a distance of 50 miles before turning about in a sort of fishhook bend and starting southward. To the baby stream, before it enters Lake Itasca, Nicollet gave the poetic name of 'Cradle Achilles.' He established its course in connection with three small lakes, since named Upper, Middle and Lower Nicollet lakes—that is to say, he found that the little river ran through two of these small lakes and connected with the third. This explorer mapped the whole of the Itasca basin and determined the latitude, longitude and altitude with such accuracy that subsequent surveys have only confirmed and amplified his observations."

"The whole subject of which I have been speaking was befogged and thrown into dispute recently by a certain Captain Glazier, who, apparently for no other purpose than to advertise himself, published his alleged discovery of a new and true source of the Mississippi. By reducing the size of Lake Itasca, ignoring Nicollet's Cradle Achilles, magnifying a small side lake which he called Lake Glazier, and by stretching out one of the feeders of the latter, he produced a distorted map which actually imposed on the Royal Geographical society of Great Britain. Many of the errors thus originated have crept into the standard maps of the United States."

"It may be said that there is nothing further to be learned about the true source of the Father of Waters. As a matter of essential fact, the true Upper Mississippi is the river called the Missouri. The stream that flows from Lake Itasca is merely a tributary. I ought not to forget to mention that I walked along the bed of the stream termed by Captain Glazier the infant Mississippi for a considerable distance dry shod. The little brook was dried up. Late measurements have reduced the length of the Mississippi from 3,184 miles to 2,555 miles."

SELJAN'S MURDERERS.

A Banana Cart Used to Convey the Dead Body to the River.

OMAHA, July 9.—The police have discovered the manner in which the body of John Seljan was taken from the room in which he was butchered last week to the river. The three murderers carried the body through town in a banana cart. They were seen by Thomas Kinney, a Union Pacific engineer. At 2 o'clock last Wednesday morning his engine was standing on the South Thirteenth street viaduct. Hearing a noise in the street below he glanced down. Three men were conveying a mysterious burden along Thirteenth street. It was loaded on a cart, such as are used by the fruit vendors, which had been previously suggested as such a vehicle as the murderers would be likely to have used, since the boarding-house of the accused is a great resort of fruit vendors.

Two of the men were walking some distance ahead and looking around as though to give warning if they should happen upon any belated pedestrians. The third man was pushing the cart as rapidly as possible. It was the contents of the cart that struck the engineer as being peculiar. It contained some object wrapped in a heavy blanket which completely concealed it. Kinney was at once struck with the resemblance which the object bore to a human body. It had the shape of the body of a large man. The object was too long for the cart and extended a couple of feet over the front end.

This clears up the last mystery in connection with the horrible affair. The five persons have not yet been arraigned.

LIBERTY BELL GOING SOUTH.

Visitors to the Atlantic Exposition Can See the Valued Relic.

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—The special committee of councils having charge of the transportation of the liberty bell to Atlanta for exhibition at the coming exposition in that city met yesterday afternoon and perfected plans for the trip. Letters were read from the governor of Georgia, the mayor of Atlanta and the governor general of the exposition, assuring the people of Philadelphia that the greatest effort would be made to properly care for the relic while it was in the south.

It was stated at the meeting that the opposition to the removal of the bell, which at one time threatened to take the form of an injunction, has almost entirely disappeared, many of those who formerly opposed the trip now being in favor of it.

MURDER TRIAL BEGUN.

Dr. A. Eddmon of Bowling Green, Ohio, Charged With Killing Mrs. Peany.

TOLEDO, July 9.—The jury for the trial of Dr. A. Eddmon of Bowling Green, O., charged with the murder of Mrs. Peany at Tontogony last spring, was secured with very little trouble and as completed is made up as follows: Conrad Kohl, H. E. Leedy, S. S. Long, George M. Brown, Daniel Kunkler, Charles Zingg, George D. Insley, Henry Freyman, William Martin, L. D. Arnold, Andrew Walk, Aaron Brand. The case was presented to the jury by counsel on both sides, but no evidence was introduced. For the witnesses there have been subpoenaed 35 witnesses and the defense has a list of 83. The trial is exciting much interest because of the prominence of the defendants and the fact that the doctor's wife is also under indictment for the same crime and will be placed on trial at the conclusion of the present case.

According to the statements of the attorneys the state will endeavor to prove that Dr. Eddmon was very familiar with Mrs. Peany, and that she visited him at unreasonable hours. They will also claim that he it was who fired the fatal shot. Just the connection that Mrs. Eddmon has with the crime is not yet developed, except the claim that she was cognizant of the crime at the time it was committed.

One Man Robs the Stage.

REDDING, Cal., July 9.—The Redding and Alturas stage was robbed yesterday morning two miles above Morley's station. Supervisor Bass and a lady passenger were not molested. The highwayman took the Well-Fargo box and registered mail, securing perhaps $400. The robber is described as five feet and a half tall and many believe it to be the veteran stage robber, Brady, as officers claim that he took that direction.

TOLEDO, July 9.—By the breaking of a weak railing of a foot bridge crossing the Wabash tracks, yesterday, two men and a boy were precipitated to the ground 20 feet below. One of the men, John Walters, has since died from the effects of his injuries. Walters' 8-year-old son and Frank Crein were also badly hurt.

CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET.

Offerings Last Week Were of Good Size—An Easier Feeling Noticeable.

The Enquirer in its weekly review of the tobacco market says:

Taking into consideration that a holiday intervened and there was an adjournment over the last day giving but two sale days the offerings were of good size. Receipts were large showing a very decided increase over the past several weeks. The monthly report did not show much difference in stock from the first of June, an increase of only 749 hhds. and is still 6,048 hhds less than at the same time last year.

The transactions of the two days on the breaks the past week were not entirely satisfactory, as while there was a good market there was not the general activity shown on the part of buyers in the bidding and an easier feeling was noticeable. Holders were not as well satisfied with prices and the percentage of rejections was larger than for some time.

Common trash, lugs and smokers were in fair request. Colory smokers and trashers show an active demand and are taken at full figures. Medium and good leaf was in good demand, but prices did not give the same satisfaction as two weeks ago. Fine and fancy leaf found full favor with buyers, and competition for these grades was spirited at high and very satisfactory prices. Rejections were 33 per cent. against 24 per cent last week.

The main feature of the week was the sale at the Miami Warehouse by Colonel Louis H. Drake of Ripley, Ohio, of 1 hhd fancy leaf at $28.50, the highest price of the year in this or any other market. This hoghead was in a lot of 20 hhds, that averaged $20.70.

Mr. Perry Jefferson, of Headquarters, Ky., sold at the Globe Warehouse 19 hhds at $13.75, $14, $14.25, $18.50, $19, $19.50, $19.75, $20.75, $21, $21.25, $21.50, $22, $22.25, $22.50, $24.75, $25.

Mr. P. D. Lerch, of Clermont County, Ohio, sold at the Farmers and Shippers' Warehouse 5 hhds at $21.50, $22.50, $24.75, $25, $25.25, averaging $23.80.

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

Glover & Durrett, of the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse, furnishes the following:

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 337,448 lbs. with receipts for the same period 322,248 lbs. Sales on our market since January 1st, amount to 105,580 lbs. Sales of the crop of 1894 on our market to this date amount to 105,967 lbs.

We have had only two days of auction sales on our market this week and the offerings embraced 1779 hhds of burley tobacco. The fine grades of leaf both of the colory and red type continue firm at satisfactory prices and common grades with high color, continue in demand without any tendency toward weakening in values, but the other grades of burley have not rallied from the decline which was reported last week but to the contrary the symptoms of irregularity were rather more aggravated during the sales of this week.
